Message Series: My God, My God, Why Have You Forsaken Me?

Psalm 22 falls into two parts:

v. 1-21 describe the cry of someone alone and in _____

v. 22-31 describe something totally different. A praise of God in _____ My God, My God, why have You forsaken Me?

Psalm 22:1a NKJV

God's _____ with those who are
_____ and _____

opens up a new possibility for understanding and living human life, as well as for understanding and accepting _____.

Since the children are made of flesh and blood, it's logical that the Savior took on flesh and blood in order to rescue them by his death. By embracing death, taking it into himself, he destroyed the Devil's hold on death and freed all who cower through life, scared to death of death.

Hebrews 2:14-15 MES

It's obvious, of course, that he didn't go to all this trouble for angels. It was for people like us, children of Abraham. That's why he had to enter into every detail of human life. Then, when he came before God as high priest to get rid of the people's sins, he would have already experienced it all himself—all the pain, all the testing—and would be able to help where help was needed.

Hebrews 2:16-18 MES

Relevant Question: Do you believe that God's resurrection power is greater than death's power?

“Father, if you are willing, take this cup from me;
yet not my will, but yours be done.”

Luke 22:42 NIV

For he has not despised or scorned the suffering of the afflicted one;
he has not hidden his face from him but has listened to his cry for help.

Psalms 22:24 NIV

_____ and _____ are inseparable
