3      a fundamental expression of liberty; and

4            WHEREAS, School choice empowers enthusiastic students, 5      engaged parents, and exceptional teachers by creating an environment in

7      only encouraged but expected; and

8            WHEREAS, Competition among schools--whether traditional 9      public, charter, private, or home-based--drives excellence, fosters 10     innovation, and ensures that families are not bound by zip code to a 11     one-size-fits-all system; and

12           WHEREAS, Innovation in the education ecosystem enables

1 of public dollars by fostering responsiveness to student needs and parent 2 expectations while prioritizing classroom success over bureaucratic 3 inertia; and

4 WHEREAS, The COVID-19 pandemic provided many parents 5 with an unprecedented window into the daily instruction, culture, and 6 operations of their children's schools, leading countless families to seek 7 alternative educational options that better reflect their children's 8 individual needs; and

9 WHEREAS, Charter schools and other forms of school choice
10 have seen significant growth since the pandemic, offering families
11 high-quality alternatives and producing strong academic outcomes across 12 diverse populations; and

13 WHEREAS, Despite record levels of education funding, a 14 disproportionate share of resources has been absorbed by growing 15 administrative overhead and non-instructional costs, thereby crowding out 16 the opportunity to raise teacher salaries and directly support classroom 17 learning; and

18 WHEREAS, Teachers--not administrators--are the frontline of 19 student achievement, and we must do more to ensure that resources are 20 directed toward rewarding and retaining high-performing educators; and

21 WHEREAS, The state of Colorado has both a moral and fiscal 22 responsibility to support educational environments that foster excellence, 23 elevate outcomes, and expand opportunity for every child, regardless of 24 background or income; and

25 WHEREAS, Families deserve a full range of educational 26 options--including charter schools, online programs, private and parochial 27 schools, homeschooling, and open enrollment--so that they may select the 28 best fit for their children's academic and personal growth; now, therefore,

5 reward success, promote innovation, and deliver resources where they 6 matter most; and

7           (4) That we urge our colleagues and education leaders across the 8 state to recognize and reinforce the role of enthusiastic students, engaged 9 parents, and exceptional teachers in shaping the future of education in 10 Colorado.
