HOUSE RESOLUTION 18-1006

101     CONCERNING THE RECOGNITION OF THE IMPORTANCE OF TRADES IN 102             TODAY'S WORKFORCE, AND, IN CONNECTION THEREWITH,
103             DESIGNATING MARCH 21, 2018, AS "COLORADO TRADES AND 104             CTE DAY".

1             WHEREAS, Skilled trades have not received the recognition they 2     deserve; and

3             WHEREAS, A competitive global economy requires workers who 4     are trained in skilled trades; and

5             WHEREAS, According to the most recent National Association 6     of Manufacturers survey, 80% of respondents indicated a moderate to 7     severe shortage of qualified skilled production employees, including 8     front-line workers such as machinists, operators, craft workers, 9     distributors, and technicians; and

10            WHEREAS, Career and technical education (CTE) ensures that 11     competitive and skilled workers are ready, willing, and capable of holding 12     jobs in high-wage, high-skill, and in-demand career fields such as 13     science, technology, engineering, mathematics, nursing, allied health,

HOUSE
Final Reading
March 21, 2018

1 construction, information technology, energy sustainability, and many 2 other career fields that are vital in keeping Colorado competitive in the 3 global economy; and

4 WHEREAS, According to the federal Bureau of Labor and 5 Statistics, the three fastest-growing occupations require an associate's 6 degree or a degree with fewer requirements, and each has an annual 7 median salary greater than $50,000; and

8 WHEREAS, The average annual wage for a Coloradan employed 9 in construction is $57,581; and

10 WHEREAS, There are more than 155,000 Colorado men and 11 women employed in a skilled trade; and

12 WHEREAS, Skills learned through an on-the-job and classroom
13 apprenticeship program provide graduates with meaningful opportunities
14 to advance to management, executive, and business ownership positions; 15 and

16 WHEREAS, Many skilled trade apprenticeship programs offer free
17 training to enrollees and place students directly in hands-on work 18 environments; and

19 WHEREAS, Approximately 60,000 more workers will be needed 20 by 2023, and 70% of those will be working for subcontractors; and

21 WHEREAS, Men and women in skilled trades contribute to 22 creating the infrastructure necessary to maintain the booming economy
23 in Colorado; and

24 WHEREAS, Men and women in skilled trades, such as linemen,
25 pipefitters, excavators, steel workers, and welders, are often part of first 26 response teams who help rebuild communities after natural disasters,
27 taking on great personal risk to ensure public safety in these communities; 28 now, therefore,

29 Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives of the Seventy-first 30 General Assembly of the State of Colorado:

31 That we, the Colorado General Assembly:

1           (1) Recognize the importance of skilled trades to both our 2 economy and infrastructure;

3           (2) Recognize skilled trade workers as essential and valuable
4 assets for the success of Colorado;

5           (3) Encourage students to explore career and technical education 6 paths that are not traditionally taken, but lead to competitive salaries and 7 meaningful careers; and

8           (4) Designate Wednesday, March 21, 2018, as "Colorado Trades
9 and CTE Day".
