The Blue Ribbon Difference
Connecting Lives, Landscapes and Legacies Through
High Quality Construction

Blue Ribbon Builders has been family owned and operated since we broke ground on our first project in the early 1970s. As true locals, and Big Sky's longest-standing builder, we've been listening to our clients' desires and bringing them to life through wood, stone, glass, and earth since the very first chairlifts carried folks up Lone Peak. Our roots run deep in this community, and in the natural landscapes around us.

We build high-quality, luxury homes through economical construction methods and processes—creating lasting value while utilizing resources efficiently, resulting in a smaller environmental footprint. As builders, our specialty is in-house carpentry—Blue Ribbon Builders takes pride in a company culture that knows and values true artisanship.

Clients and architects alike value our mastery of the nuances of building in complex terrain. We know mountain construction – we know how to maximize our clients' enjoyment of the indoor and outdoor opportunities to relax and play. Ultimately, we bring specific expertise to the table—what we offer is peace of mind.

Blue Ribbon Builders cares about the project, the process, and the results just as much as our clients do. Our services extend far beyond just construction—from walking undeveloped lots in preconstruction, to managing longterm property maintenance, our architectural partners and clients alike appreciate our detailed, accurate cost estimates and scheduling.

45+ years in business as a local leader means we do the right things the right way, always. When it comes to relationships, and custom homes, we know a thing or two about building strong foundations—we’re in it for the long haul. And our team is our extended family. From our craftsman to our project managers, we care about helping each other do our best work, and truly thrive. We believe in what we can accomplish together—as a company, and as a community.

In our partnerships with clients and architects, our goal is to translate the design vision into the build process with thoughtfulness and transparency, while seeking every opportunity to achieve our clients’ goals. We have earned a reputation for handling highly customized, complex residential projects with tight timelines and competitive budgets.

Our detail-oriented and highly organized approach is grounded in a passion for true excellence. It’s easy to say, but harder to accomplish—and that’s what Blue Ribbon Builders does differently, every single day.

You know you’ll get a quality project with them. They’re very good with communicating, estimating costs with regards to design, and all their personnel knows what they’re doing—they have deep knowledge bases and levels of experience that make every person on the team easy to work with. And they’re big sky local. We love that.
