The Door is Open…For Now

Passage: Luke 13:22-35 | From the series: Luke
Preacher: Cormac Parker Jr.
Date: For the sermon on Nov 8, 2026

What if you could be close to Jesus and still miss the life he's offering?

In this week's passage, Jesus challenges our assumptions about faith, belonging, and putting off what matters most until tomorrow. His warning is urgent, but his invitation is full of love. The door is open…for now.

Discussion Questions:

1. What is the difference between being familiar with Jesus and genuinely following him? Where might you see that tension in your life?

2. How has your family background, religious upbring and person experience shaped your assumption about belonging to God's kingdom?

3. In the passage Jesus laments/weeps over those who reject him. How Often I wanted to gather you". What does this reveal about the heart of Jesus? How does this challenge your understanding of him?

4. What are some things we look to for security, identity, or fulfillment instead of Jesus? How do those compete with willingness to follow him?

5. Is there an area of your life where you've been saying "not yet" to Jesus? What would it look like to respond today?
