The Cobb County Major Thoroughfare Plan

The Major Thoroughfare Plan is the hierarchical categorization of public streets and roads in the County based upon their intended transportation and land use functions.

The Major Thoroughfare Plan provides the classification of all Cobb County roadways as arterials, major collectors, minor collectors, and local streets in Cobb County, which are maintained by the Cobb County Department of Transportation and the Georgia Department of Transportation. It also includes some streets that traverse and are maintained by the incorporated cities within Cobb.

Revisions to the existing Major Thoroughfare Plan are a result of various factors which include, but are not limited to, changing land use and its relationship to the County's Comprehensive Plan, as well as roadway improvements constructed within the County.

Cobb County thoroughfares are defined in Section 106-91 of the official Cobb County Code of Ordinances.

Background

In 1985, the Major Thoroughfare Plan was developed by the Cobb County Department of Transportation's Traffic Engineering Division. The Plan's development consisted of describing the four basic units of an urban street system. The units at that time were classified as Freeway, Major Arterial, Collector Street, and Local Road. A map was created to depict each of the roadway units in the County. The Major Thoroughfare Plan was included in the annual Cobb Data Report (1986), which is developed and published by the Department of Community Development.

The Major Thoroughfare Plan was first adopted by the Cobb County Board of Commissioners through a Special Called Meeting and Work Session on January 28, 1986. On April 25, 1995, a recommendation was made, via agenda item, to update the Major Thoroughfare Plan for the first time since its 1986 adoption. The Plan's update became a guide for planning and proposing future improvements to Cobb County streets. The Department of Transportation's initiative consisted of providing information regarding the functional classifications of new and existing streets, plus a number of clerical corrections to the previous update.

On June 9, 1995, the Major Thoroughfare Plan was amended for the first time. Subsequently, the Major Thoroughfare Plan has been amended four additional times (September 23, 1997, January 22, 2002, February 14, 2006 and November 14, 2006).

The Major Thoroughfare Plan serves an important function in that it continues to be used by the County as a basis for determining right-of-way requirements, access controls, cross-section requirements when new developments are proposed, as well as to guide planning for future improvements.

Major Thoroughfare

Any public road or highway, defined as an arterial, major collector or minor collector.

Arterial

A street or road whose primary function is to carry through-traffic over relatively long distances between major areas of the county, or across the county, while retaining a secondary function of providing access to abutting land.

Major Collector

A street or road whose primary function is to carry traffic over moderate distances between arterial streets and/or activity centers and whose secondary function is to provide access to abutting land.

Minor Collector

A street or road whose primary function is to carry traffic over minor distances from local streets and subdivisions to an activity center or higher classification street while also providing access to abutting land.

Local Street

A street or road whose primary function is to provide access to abutting land while also providing for local traffic circulation. Local streets include any public street or road not classified as a freeway, arterial, or collector in the County's thoroughfare plan. Local streets within residential subdivisions are further classified into functional subcategories: residential collectors and residential subdivision streets.
