A candidate may appeal testing conditions during the written test. Improper testing conditions include: incorrect or incomplete instructions given, testing material that is not readable, or environmental conditions that would interfere with the candidate's ability to take the exam. Appeal issues relating to testing conditions shall be brought to the attention of the test proctor immediately upon discovery. The test proctor will resolve the issue immediately to the best of their ability. Should the candidate feel the issue is not resolved adequately, he will notify the Department Test Coordinator immediately.

A candidate may appeal or rebut any test question(s) at the exam site or up to 5:00 PM on the day immediately following the exam date. An Exam Review Committee (comprised of subject matter experts) will review any appealed or rebutted test questions. The Exam Review Committee, without knowledge of the name of the individual appealing or rebutting the item(s), will review all appeals using the five-pronged test below. Their decision will be final.

- a. Does the question come from the cited source?
- b. Is the question taken correctly from the cited source?
- c. Is the keyed answer correct according to the cited source?
- d. According to the cited source, is one or more of the distracters an equally correct answer?
- e. According to the cited source, does one or more of the distracters create so much ambiguity that it is not possible to choose a best answer?

Based upon the findings of the Exam Review Committee, appealed items could remain as keyed, be re-keyed with a different answer; be re-keyed with more than one answer; or have credit given to all participants.

Cobb County Human Resources will notify all candidates of the outcomes of the appeals/rebuttals process via e-mail.

2. After the written test notices have been sent

A candidate may appeal miscalculated scores. A candidate may file an appeal to the Director of Human Resources by written letter or by e-mail. The appeal must be received by the Director of Human Resources within 10 calendar days from the date that notices were postmarked or sent electronically. The Director of Human Resources, or his designee, will notify the candidate of his receipt of the appeal.

3. During or upon completion of the assessment center

Before leaving the assessment center, the candidate may complete the provided appeals form listing any concerns that the candidate had about the process. A candidate may appeal the assessment center because the candidate believed that there were unfair or improper testing conditions or if the candidate had concerns about the administration of or how the assessment center process was conducted.
