

Submitting Your Book to Cobb County Public Library's New Cobb County Authors Collection

Cobb County Public Library offers a small display area at the Switzer Library for local authors who want their work sampled by library users. This collection is designed to give new and emerging writers, especially those whose books are not yet widely reviewed or stocked by libraries and bookstores, an opportunity to be read by their friends and neighbors.

Please note the following guidelines for the New Cobb County Authors Collection:

- Due to the volume of self-published and print-on-demand titles available, the library does not purchase these books. However, copies donated by the author or publisher are considered for the New Cobb County Authors collection at the Library's discretion.
- Books for this collection are chosen by the Library's Book Selection Committee. Space limitations may prevent all titles from being approved for display.
- Authors must be current Cobb County residents, or the book must take place in Cobb County, or otherwise demonstrate a strong local interest.
- Books chosen will be cataloged and shelved. They may be rotated out of the collection after one year to make room for newer selections.
- All books submitted for this collection become the property of Cobb County Public Library System.
