Product Description

This is a 6ft USB 2.0 male to male black extension cable. It allows your standard USB A 2.0 equipped laptop, PC, or USB charger to extend the length of its connection to any USB B 2.0 equipped device, such as a printer, scanner, or USB hub. The USB A 2.0 connector also grants backwards compatibility to any USB 1.x (A) equipped device. This product grants you the freedom to be flexible and organized with your devices, without having to worry about sacrificing quality for longer distances. Our extension cables are backed by a 3 year warranty and are guaranteed to work the first time.
