THE VOID OF THE WOMB COULDRON NIGREDO THE SHADOW AND THE DECENT

We enter the void of the wombs cauldron to represent the blackening or dissolution phase in a psychological and alchemical healing journey. It is a time of shadow work, breaking down the old self, and confronting the unconscious. This stage is often dark and difficult but is a necessary precursor to transformation and renewal.

This is the most challenging phase, and yet the most important, there is no phase of healing, transformation, alchemy that can by pass this, yet it seems that the collective will do anything to avoid. The womb is the most beautiful place to do this work, you will be held gently by her magical void as you face parts of yourself that you haven't been able to before. Know that the next alchemical stage will open into your purification and illumination after such a deep journey.

MONTH ONE DEATH AND DECAY KALIS WOMB

Experiencing profound existential or spiritual despair, which often leads to greater self-awareness. We learn our suffering, the pain and difficulty in personal transformation makes us face deep questions of purpose and existence.

Can you SURRENDER to the unknown, to the magical, to the mystical instead of what you think and project from the places in the shadows that are wanting to disintegrate? Can you yield to the process?
