WHO WE ARE

John McGlashan College is a high-performing Year 7-13 secondary school for boys in Dunedin, New Zealand.

The college understands the individuality of each boy and we provide every student with strong foundations for life and extensive opportunities to develop his abilities. Over the decades, McGlashan graduates have become leaders in business and agriculture and in academic and professional fields.

At McGlashan, we value intellectual excellence, aesthetic awareness and the ideal of a healthy mind in a healthy body. We expect our boys to become well-educated, independent young men of integrity, who believe in the standards of our heritage: honesty, respect and concern for others are fundamental to the way we do things.

INNOVATIVE LEARNING

At John McGlashan we offer NCEA and the International Baccalaureate Diploma Programme. We also work collaboratively with Columba College on our Centre of Excellence for Agricultural Science and Business.

With 97%, 99%, and 78% respective pass rates at Level 1, 2 & 3 NCEA, it is difficult, if not impossible to find another school in the country that can match this. On top of this, we have have unprecedented success by many other measures as well, as students opt for other qualifications such as NZQA Scholarships or the IB Diploma. In the IB Diploma this year we also had one student achieve over 40 points, and Top Scholar status.

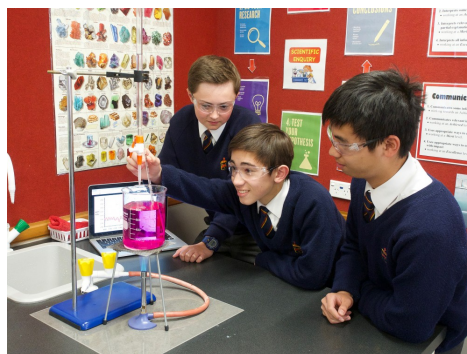

We promote collaborative learning, which fits with the way boys learn.

WHAT ELSE WE DO

Sport and cultural activities are seen as a major part of a student's life at John McGlashan College. Sport is encouraged for students in Years 7-13, as are the interhouse haka, singing, athletics, swimming and cross-country events. We cater for a wide variety of interests and abilities and encourage both elite performance and enthusiastic involvement.

John McGlashan College has a proud history and strength in both sport and the performing arts. They are seen as an important part of the College and contribute much to the culture and experience that is John McGlashan College.

All students from Year 9 through to Year 13 are encouraged to take part in at least one summer and one winter sport or activity. If they choose an activity that runs for the whole year, they should also take part in at least one other activity in either summer or winter.

Neil Garry

Principal

Welcome to John McGlashan College. As principal of the college I am very proud of what our school has to offer prospective students from overseas.

Here at John McGlashan College we run a well-resourced international student programme which provides students with an exceptional education in English. We also cater for learners of English with our specialist English tuition.

As a school we are committed to academic excellence. Our aim is to enable every boy to achieve the best possible success in his examination results. We offer New Zealand qualifications, recognized nationally and internationally and also the International Baccalaureate, one of the world's most challenging high school qualifications. Our examination scores are well above the national average and many of our students obtain scholarships and academic awards.

John McGlashan College holds the ideal of 'a healthy mind in a healthy body'. We do not expect all boys to become top sportsmen, but we do want them to be physically fit and to experience the satisfaction and enjoyment that comes from organized sport – from playing in well-managed, well-coached teams.

We also want them to participate in the arts and to give them opportunities to express themselves creatively – for example in music, drama, painting, sculpture and design.

Our long-term goal is to work alongside parents to ensure that by the time they finish school, the boys have become well-educated men of character – men with integrity. One of our school mottos reads 'Of him to whom much has been given, much will be expected; we hope that many of the boys from John McGlashan will go on to be role models and leaders in the forefront of society, wherever they may be in the world.

Information about this college is enclosed. Please take time to read the prospectus and if you have any questions, we would be very happy to speak with you or a representative. If you decide that our school would be the right choice for your son, we look forward to receiving his application. We are confident that we can meet your highest expectations.

John McGlashan College was founded in 1918 and successfully combines its rich heritage with an up-to-date educational philosophy. What is particularly characteristic about this school is the warmth and vibrancy of its community life, where staff and students are friendly, enthusiastic and hard-working. The school has an excellent reputation for academic achievement, and excels in the creative arts and sport. Our examination results demonstrate that the school is clearly placed among the top academic boys schools in New Zealand and many of our students have won scholarships to national and international universities.

The school buildings and facilities are of a very high standard and we are particularly proud of our state-of-the-art library and gymnasium and large sports field. Since the school is situated on the outskirts of Dunedin, it is close to open countryside with beautiful views of the surrounding hills.

Each year, John McGlashan College welcomes students from many different countries onto our International Student Programme. In addition to our 520 students, we also have 40 students from Asia, Europe and North America. Whether their reasons for coming are to improve their English language skills, to experience a different culture or to acquire internationally recognised qualifications, we expect them to benefit greatly from their time in this prestigious boys' school.

As well as offering the full range of New Zealand qualifications, John McGlashan College is also an International Baccalaureate school. It is the only school in the South Island where boys can study this rigorous and highly regarded qualification, which is widely recognized around the world and draws in some outstanding students.

Our highly professional teachers and staff work together as a well-integrated team in order to provide the best tuition and pastoral support possible and to bring out the best in each student. Specialist English tuition is provided for those international students who require it.

A quarter of the boys at John McGlashan are boarders at the school hostel: international students may apply for places there, depending on availability, or choose to live in the local community with a 'homestay' family.

John McGlashan College has agreed to observe and be bound by the Code of Practice for the Pastoral Care of International Students published by the Minister of Education. Copies of the Code are available on request from this institution or from the New Zealand Ministry of Education website at: <http://www.minedu.govt.nz/goto/international>

Academic Programme

English Speakers of Other Languages (ESOL)

There is a well resourced and staffed ESOL Department. ESOL classes are provided as part of the curriculum. Students are tested on entrance and assigned to classes which fit their needs. Students are prepared for internationally recognised qualifications and the International Baccalaureate. Most of our international students enter University from school.

In addition to ESOL classes, we also offer a tutorial programme to all of our International Students, with subject specialists. This programme also offers a number of bilingual tutors to ensure student understanding of subject content.

Subject Choices

Subject choices differ depending on the age of each individual student. Therefore it is best to look at the specific information on subjects and courses at John

McGlashan College please look on our website; <https://www.mcglashan.school.nz/academic/overview/>

Orientation Programme

International Students will take part in an orientation programme on their first day. They will be introduced to senior members of the staff and members of the ESOL Department. The programme will include a tour of the school, a tour of Dunedin City, timetabling, uniform purchase if necessary and the buying of stationery.

Reporting to parents

School reports are sent to parents twice a year. These reports indicate the progress made in school subjects. The ESOL teacher reports by e-mail on the progress students are making in learning English. If parents have questions about academic progress they should contact the school at any time.

Attendance at school

A student must attend all classes in which they are enrolled. If they are absent there must be an explanation. If a student is sick for more than two days their absence must be covered by a medical certificate. If a student is continually absent without due cause they can be removed from the school by the principal as they are breaking the conditions of their visa.

Co-curricular

Sports

Sport activities are seen as a major part of a student's life at John McGlashan College. Sport is encouraged for students in Years 7-13, as are the interhouse haka, singing, athletics, swimming and cross-country events. Staff try to cater for a wide variety of interests and abilities and encourage both elite performance and enthusiastic involvement. John McGlashan College has a proud history and strength in both sport and the performing arts. They are seen as an important part of the College and contribute much to the culture and experience that is John McGlashan College.

All students from Year 9 through to Year 13 are encouraged to take part in at least one summer and one winter sport or activity. If they choose an activity that runs for the whole year, they should also take part in at least one other activity in either summer or winter.

Arts

Sir Ken Robinson said, “creativity is now as important in education as literacy”. Arts subjects can help us break out of traditional patterns of thinking and adopt fresh approaches to intellectual experiences. The arts complement more traditional subjects by enhancing creative thinking skills.

To fully participate in today’s global community, students must master the 4 Cs – Creativity, Critical Thinking, Communication, and Collaboration. Just as the 4 Cs have become integral in education (moving on from the 3 Rs of reading, writing, and arithmetic), STEM subjects (science, technology, engineering and mathematics) have evolved into STEAM - which now includes the arts. STEAM fosters creativity, innovation, and economic growth. The arts have been recognised as being important for a well-rounded education and students at John McGlashan College are lucky to have the opportunity to engage in a range of arts fields at school.

Outside the Classroom

Outdoor Education and class camps are an important part of each school year. Our boys learn outdoor survival skills and participate in confidence-building courses and team-building activities. They learn to meet the challenge of living and working with their classmates and being away from home.

Boys are encouraged to join clubs, take up outside activities and follow their interests. The college also offers the Duke of Edinburgh Hilary Award programme. Many students take extra lessons and there are jazz and pipe bands and orchestral groups.

Facilities

Traditional yet modern

John McGlashan College is situated less than two kilometers from Dunedin city centre, adjoins Balmacewen Golf Course and is close to open countryside with beautiful views of the surrounding hills. The school buildings and facilities are of a very high standard and we are particularly proud of our state-of-the-art library and gymnasium. The grounds extend over seven hectares to include soccer, rugby, cricket fields and tennis courts.

Boarding

Senior Hall

Boarding has a long tradition at McGlashan and boarders have a special place here and make up about one quarter of the total roll.

At present there are around 60 boys living in Junior Hall and a further 60 boys in Senior Hall. The Director of Boarding, his assistant and housemasters supervise and care for our boarders during the term.

There is a close working relationship between the school and the boarding house.

Boys have access to school facilities and equipment outside normal school hours. In addition, teachers communicate frequently with the Director of Boarding and other staff about boys' progress, achievements and problems.

Life at McGlashan

Students get the opportunity to experience an everyday life when studying New Zealand, from skiing in the mountains to school balls. These are memories that stay forever.

John McGlashan was an important figure in the early settlement of Dunedin. He wrote of the value of 'a sound and liberal education'. The college named after him is founded on such beliefs and values. John McGlashan stresses the individuality of each boy and aims to provide him with a strong foundation for life and abundant opportunities to develop his abilities. Over the decades McGlashan students have become leaders in business and agriculture, and in the academic and professional fields.

Our changing times

Our students are growing up in a world that is different from the one we knew at their age. They are becoming accustomed to accelerating change and the movement from a society that has powerful identification with the community to one that emphasises the individual. In our school community we provide a learning environment that is secure and sound, yet one that responds dynamically to these changing times.

Values, Beliefs and Expectations

We value intellectual excellence, aesthetic awareness and the ideal of a healthy mind in a healthy body. We believe that the standards of our Christian heritage - honesty, simplicity, respect and concern for others, are fundamental. We expect our boys to become well-educated men of character and to use their education and influence for the good of others.

Personal Development

We believe that students do best when they challenge themselves to meet achievable goals. These should embrace the full spectrum of human endeavour: social, cultural, physical, spiritual and academic. We help boys identify and meet personal goals and encourage them to build resilience and achieve beyond what they expect of themselves. We strongly stand against bullying and through our Peer Support Programme we foster links between the older and younger students.

School rules

Enrolment at John McGlashan College implies the acceptance of its rules and regulations. Boys who transgress will usually be warned and may have detentions or other sanctions imposed. We will inform parents about serious incidents.

Driving and cars

An international student must obtain permission from the Principal before sitting his licence or buying a car.
