FOREWORD

AT THE CLOSE OF THE SCHOOL YEAR, 1930-1931, OUR EASTERN OREGON NORMAL SCHOOL HAS PASSED ONE MORE MILESTONE IN ITS STEADY DEVELOPMENT AND PROGRESS. OUTSTANDING AMONG ITS MANY ACHIEVEMENTS FOR THIS YEAR ARE ITS CONTESTS WITH COLLEGES IN DEBATE, FOOTBALL, AND BASKETBALL, AND ITS HIGHER SCHOLARSHIP STANDARDS.

AS THE STUDENTS LEAVE THE NORMAL, THEY ARE DESIROUS OF A RECORD OF THEIR COLLEGE DAYS. THE 1931 EON HAS TRIED TO PRESENT THIS RECORD AS COMPLETELY AS HAS BEEN POSSIBLE—TO INCLUDE THOSE EVENTS WHICH HAVE BEEN REPRESENTATIVE, AND THOSE PERSONS WHO HAVE FAITHFULLY SERVED THE NORMAL.

THE EDITOR FEELS THAT THIS MOUNTAINEER NUMBER OF THE EON EMBODIES THE SPIRIT OF THE SCHOOL, AND THAT WITH THE PASSING OF THE YEARS IT WILL BRING A HOST OF HAPPY MEMORIES TO OUR EASTERN OREGON STUDENTS, AND WILL AROUSE LONG-FORGOTTEN DREAMS OF THOSE QUICKLY GONE, BUT EVER APPRECIATED, COLLEGE DAYS.

TOWARD THE LOFTY HEIGHTS
OF LEARNING, AND WHO ARE
BUILDING TOWARD THE FUTURE
SUCCESS OF THE EASTERN OREGON NORMAL SCHOOL,
THIS 1931 ISSUE OF THE EON
IS DEDICATED.

PRESIDENT H. E. INLOW

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Alpine heights afford a clearness of vision and breadth of view not found at lower levels. The location of the Eastern Oregon Normal School, amid inspiring mountain scenes, is, therefore, a most favored one,—a fact that we may expect to find reflected in high aspiration and superior achievement.

The class of 1931, the first to complete in residence the two-year standard course of the Eastern Oregon Normal School, has fulfilled, and I am sure will continue to fulfill, this expectation in gratifying degree. The personal and professional qualities of its members are those by which it is desired this institution shall be represented. We shall look to them for distinction in service and in willingness to serve.

President of the Normal School.

PERSONNEL COMMITTEE REPORT

The Personnel-Guidance work is planned with the aim of helping students achieve the finest personal development possible. Scholarship is recognized as one phase of desirable accomplishment; development of fine personality another. This steady growth toward a fine, well-balanced personality is a major aim in the Personnel-Guidance work.

In the program of guidance and counselling, it is intended that students have the benefit of both social and professional contacts with each other as well as with an interested faculty adviser. General and individual conferences are a part of the program and give specific guidance and opportunity for friendly, informal meetings.

A general committee composed of six faculty members has endeavored to plan and direct the work. There are nine faculty members who work with student groups in the capacity of advisers.

The Student Council is the clearing house for all student activities. Although the various groups work independently, the council encourages and supports them. Athletics, dramatics, debate, publications, and social affairs all come under its jurisdiction.

The council is composed of the student body officers, two members chosen from the senior class, two from the freshman class, and two faculty advisory members. With the help of the business manager this group takes care of all student finances, and budgets all expenditures.

The Class of 1931 has reached the end of its two-year Normal career. In its freshman year the class, under the leadership of a capable group of officers and committees, won a laudable recognition. Every class function was a marked success.

The class has been very well directed, with Miss Amanda Zabel as class adviser.

Now, as the class looks forward to new fields of endeavor, it looks back with fond memories upon two years of cooperation and accomplishment.

Adviser, Elmo Stevenson

The Freshman Class, under the leadership of the Executive Committee, was very prominent in school activities. The first function for which the freshmen were responsible was the semi-formal dance given in honor of the seniors on February 13, 1931. On June 6, 1931, the freshmen sponsored a picnic, which closed their functions for the year.

Throughout the year the class has endeavored to support the school in all its functions and activities.

The Women's League has as its purpose, the strengthening of loyalty and good fellowship among women students; and the development of cooperation between the students and the administrative officers of the school. It also provides a means of encouraging high ideals of character and of social standards.

Etiquette lectures were given by faculty members, and a discussion of famous women was presented by Mrs. Walter Pierce. Various social affairs completed the League's program for the year. The women students and women faculty members were entertained at a Kid Party during the fall quarter, and at a Gypsy Party during the winter quarter. In addition to the two women parties, two dances for men and women students were sponsored: the Christmas Dance and the Commencement Dance in honor of the seniors. As a whole, the Women's League has had a very successful and worthwhile year. The work of the League was facilitated by numerous acting committees.

GLEE CLUB

OFFICERS

President.....	La Velle Huntington
Vice-President.....	Jean Rayborn
Music Secretary.....	Iola Gooding
Director.....	Miss Jennie Peterson

The Girls' Glee Club is the largest organization of the music department. Much improvement has been made by this group during the year under the direction of Miss Jennie Peterson.

With the assistance of Sock and Buskin, the club presented its most important performance, an operetta, "All at Sea," which took place at the close of the winter term.

Small groups from the Glee Club have sung at the Rotary Club, Teachers' Institute, school assemblies, and for programs during music week. At the close of the spring quarter the club sang at the Baccalaureate exercises.

This organization made a marked improvement during its second year, under the able and enthusiastic direction of Miss Jennie Peterson. The orchestra assisted Sock and Buskin with musical numbers for "The Royal Family," the J. H. Ackerman Training School with their operetta, "Hansel and Gretel," the Glee Club with their operetta, "All at Sea."

At the close of the spring quarter the organization played for Music Week, Commencement, and Baccaauréate services.

Mrs. C. Berry and Mrs. Wonderlick, violinists, assisted the orchestra on various occasions.

The E. O. Forensics in its two years of existence has advanced far into the fields of oratory, public speaking, and debate. The subject for debate this year was, "Resolved, that the nations of the world should adopt a policy of free trade." The teams were organized. The women's team consisted of Grace Herr, Lucille Hudelson, Ceciel Kenville, Alberta Young, and Mildred French. This team made an excellent showing, competing against Nazarene College, Washington State College, Whitworth College, and Albany College. On the men's team were Floyd Baxter, Albert McCoy, and Austin Dunn, who returned from their tour undefeated. Pacific University, Oregon Normal School, Oregon State College, and Linfield College were met by this team.

The cooperation and enthusiasm of the club as a whole has been very commendable, and much time and effort was given by both teams and club members to make this year one to be remembered. Much of the credit for whatever success we have attained is given to Miss Amanda L. Zabel and Mr. E. G. Daniels, who have contributed so willingly to the direction and improvement of the activities of E. O. Forensics.

The second year of active work for Sock and Buskin has proved both interesting and consequential, due to the score of its undertakings, the enthusiasm of its members, and the successful outcome of its efforts.

In addition to "The Royal Family," and assisting the Glee Club with "All at Sea," Sock and Buskin presented a Russian one-act play, "The Boor," by Chekhov, for the Neighborhood Club. The "Romantic Age" by A. A. Milne was given during commencement week as the major production of the spring term.

TRAINING SCHOOL DEPARTMENT

Effort is made in the training school to provide activities that will contribute to the child's complete development. It is recognized that the whole child goes to school. This means that provision is made for the mental, social, and physical development of the child with a constant striving toward steady growth.

Definite plans are carried out to emphasize responsibility and initiative on the part of the children. In addition to the so-called classroom subjects and activities, many others such as music, art, dramatics, and physical education contribute their share toward giving well-rounded, practical education.

Phi Beta Sigma was established during the fall term of this year. Its purpose is to promote teaching as a profession, to uphold high professional ideals and standards, and to engender worthy professional attitudes within the student body and within the teaching profession. Eligibility for membership consists of high scholarship, genuine interest in teaching, and demonstrated ability to study educational problems and to contribute actively to the solution of these problems. The society programs included addresses by prominent educators, programs both literary and professional in character, and reports of studies conducted by the society, and purely social gatherings.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

OFFICERS

President.....	Mildred E. Bennett
Vice-President.....	Vadis Slack
Secretary-Treasurer.....	Mary Dawson
Assistant Secretary.....	Eva-Jane Erwin
Faculty Adviser.....	Mr. Nichols

The International Relations Clubs are under the auspices of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. The Endowment dedicates suitable books to each club, and adds to this collection each year.

This group was organized under the direction of Mr. W. R. Nichols, who is the faculty adviser, for the purpose of studying and discussing those national and international events which are transpiring daily within and without our national borders, and which vitally concern our American life and institutions.

STUDENT BODY SOCIAL COMMITTEE

MEMBERS

Lowell Fuller, Chairman      June Coolidge      Bethmyrl Miller
 Dallas Norton      Marie Young
 Elmo Stevenson, Helen S. Moor, Faculty Advisers

The student body social committee is appointed in the fall quarter and serves for the entire school year.

The purpose of this committee is to plan the social affairs of the student body, and have a well-balanced calendar. Its aim is to provide a variety of entertainments of interest to all students. It has sponsored many delightful social hours, dances, and card parties.

One outstanding feature was planned and carried out each quarter. Alumni were welcomed at a Homecoming dance, November 1. On March 6 a group of masqued guests and students of the Normal school had a delightful evening dancing to music furnished by the Star Novelty Orchestra. A Spring Dance held April 24 proved a great success.

On the whole this committee deserves much credit for the success of the social functions for the year.

NATURE CLUB

OFFICERS

President.....	Esther Witty
Secretary.....	Elsa Bogue
Chairman of Arrangements.....	Lorna Marquis
Faculty Adviser.....	Mr. Elmo Stevenson

The Nature Club was formed for the purpose of securing a better understanding of nature, and to provide for outdoor activities and social gatherings.

This club is different from the usual club in that it has no definite membership, and that there are no membership limitations. Any student may belong by meeting the requirements of the particular activity of the club.

During the fall quarter, the club hiked to Dutch Springs and also enjoyed a picnic at Pine Cone Auto Camp at which local men gave interesting talks on nature.

Two roller skating parties and an indoor golf tournament were sponsored by the club during the winter term. A social hour and an Easter Egg Hunt opened the spring term with much enthusiasm. Among the latter activities held by the club, the swimming party at Cove, and the Morgan Lake hike were the outstanding features.

COACH ERNEST R. QUINN

FOOTBALL

Although football material was relatively scarce this year, the Mountaineers did well. Approximately twenty men turned out for practice, and out of this group Coach Quinn shaped a team of which the Eastern Oregon Normal School in its second year of existence may well be proud. This team knew how to suffer defeat with a grin and also knew how to accept a victory with a smile. The football squad traveled about sixteen hundred miles, traveling to Cheney, Washington, and Monmouth. Watch for bigger things from football next year!

FOOTBALL

ORVILLE BEARD—"Bud"—Fullback—Captain—
Second Year

Unusually fast for a man of such huge bulk, Bud drove relentlessly into enemy lines and usually went on through. He was the Mountaineers' most consistent ground gainer.

JOE TOMJACK—"Joe"—Tackle—First Year

Early season injuries kept Joe on the bench for the first few games, but when he got back in the game he soon made up for lost time. When Joe charged, it was like the rush of a cyclone, for there was wreckage in his wake.

MELVIN EILERS—"Speed"—Guard—First Year

Mel could take a joke as well as prove that a football belongs across the opponents' goal. His good nature and his ability to play football proved an inspiration to the team.

FRANCIS SULLIVAN—"Sully"—Halfback—Second Year

Sully's playing and sportsmanship were above all reproach. In spite of a bad foot, his open field running was a feature in every game.

MAX HOUTCHENS—"Max"—Center—Second Year

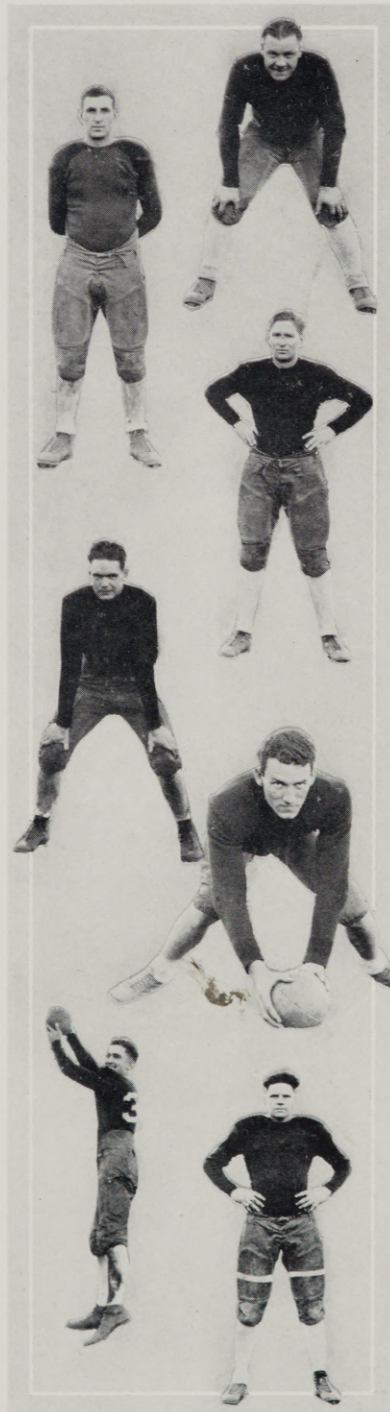

Long-legged Max was a mighty good center and had to beat at making tackles from one end of the line to the other, and his long arms frequently snatched enemy passes from the atmosphere for gains of several yards.

CECIL POSEY—"Cec"—End—Second Year

One never heard it said that Cec was playing a good game—it was taken for granted. Cec took on all comers, regardless of size or reputation.

RAY IRWIN—"Red"—Guard—First Year

Red took care of one guard position with enthusiasm. Besides being a good interference runner he was one of the best tacklers on the team.

ELDON WILSON—"Willy"—End—First Year

Wilson was an amazing combination of swiftness and effectiveness. He had an uncanny way of stopping the ball almost before it had commenced to travel.

GRANVILLE PLASS—"Plass"—End—First Year

Plass was one of those quiet individuals who could be depended upon to be in the right place at the right time.

LYNN McCULLY—"Mac"—Quarterback—Second year

A wonderful field general who could direct the play, cheer the fellows on to fight, and himself find time to play a hard, fast game.

JACK LOYD—"Duffield"—Halfback—First Year

Jack was fast and always in the midst of the fight. His wise cracks helped to keep the team's morale at a high level.

BLAINE PASLEY—"Paze"—End—First Year

He played a mighty fine game of football as his opponents found out, because they just didn't get around his end.

HILLARD BROWN—"Brownie"—Guard—Second Year

An injury kept him out of the game part of the time, but, when he was in, those minutes counted. He knew how to use his hands legally and effectively.

DON PATTEN—"Bud"—Halfback—First Year

Bud was fast and shifty. He was small, but size did not seem to be much of a handicap to him. His punt returning was of high caliber.

LEE JOHNSON—"Ole"—Guard—First Year

When Ole hit the line, at least one man went down—sometimes more. He promises to be good material for next year.

GILBERT PERARD—"Bit"—Quarterback— First Year

Small, wiry, cheerful, Gib kept the fellows grinning and in a fighting mood. He will no doubt find himself in the skipper position next year.

WALTER PEARSON—"Walt"—Tackle—First Year

When two rows of husky linesmen lined up, Walt seemed out of place in a tackle position, yet there were few opponents who could budge Walt's 160 pounds when he wished otherwise.

PAUL BULL—"Paul"—Guard—First Year

Paul was in the fight from the time he went into the game until the whistle blew. When Paul was told to get a man, that man was got.

RODERICK LARRABEE—"Rod"—End—First Year

Due to a wealth of material at the guard position, Rod found it necessary to sit on the bench most of the time, but he turned in some reliable games.

GARNARD COLES—"Coles"—Halfback—First Year

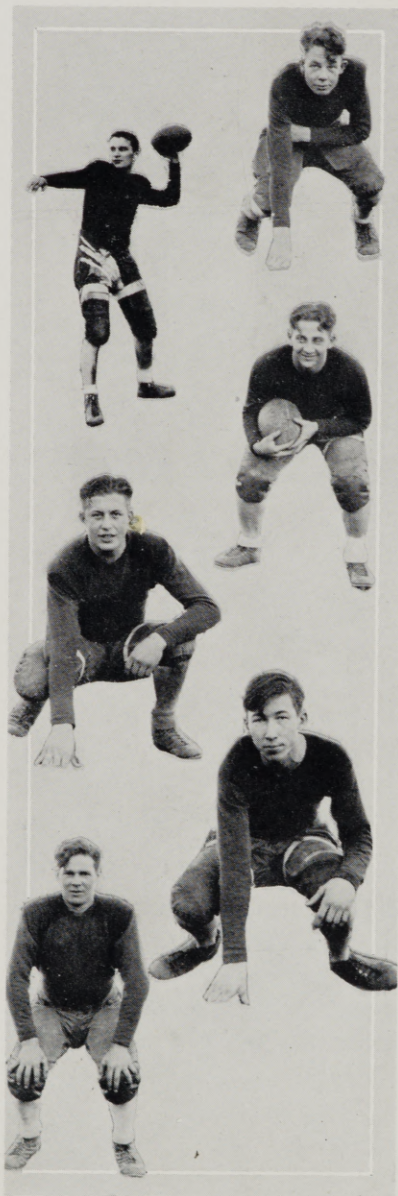

The ability to start at full speed made Coles a valuable man in the Mountaineer offense. He was small in stature, but he was never down until an enemy tackler or two was sitting on him.

GEORGE BRADLEY—"Brad"—Guard—First Year

George was another of the casualties who fell during some heavy skirmishing. He tried several times to come back, but his injury kept him out most of the season.

BUSTER RANDS—"Bus"—Tackle—First Year

Bus never seemed to know when he had enough. Small as he was, he would come out from under the largest heap ready for some more.

BASKETBALL

Basketball had a poor send off, but ended satisfactorily. Although sickness checked the team's progress during the first few weeks, the spirit and enthusiasm displayed by the hoopsters was exceptional. The team really started when the Helix independent, and Monmouth games were played. These games were considered the best that have been played in this territory for a long time as both teams were well matched. To end the season, the basketball squad made a trip to Southern Oregon and Monmouth, where the conference championship was tied three ways. Because Eastern Oregon had played the greatest number of games, our team was recognized as champion.

BASKETBALL

BLAIN PASLEY—"Paze"—Captain—Guard—Second Year

Although some painful injuries kept him out of the running for some time, he played some very good basketball. Paze always kept up the spirit for the rest of the gang. His guarding was outstanding, and his uncanny shots from the corners were hard to stop.

MAX HOUTCHENS—"Max"—Center—Second Year

Max showed himself capable of taking the tip-off from his opponent and still found time to drop a few through the hoop. He was a big factor in winning the Ashland and Monmouth games.

FRANCIS SULLIVAN—"Sully"—Forward—Second Year

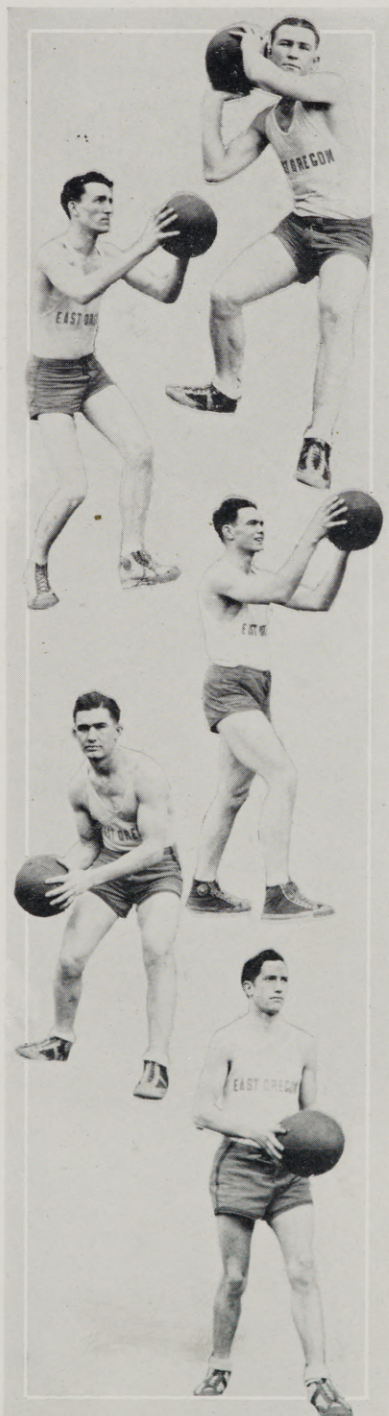

Flashy brilliance would well describe his performance. Racing from one end of the floor to the other to recover the ball and coming back for a basket was his specialty.

CECIL POSEY—"Cec"—Guard—Second Year

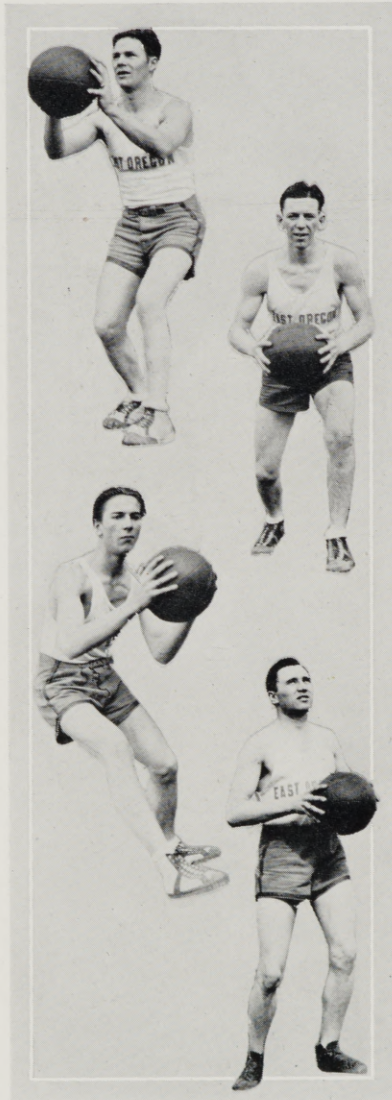

His playing was terrorizing to opposing teamwork. He seemed to have a little more energy which he had not expended. He was high point man in the championship game.

JERRY METCALF—"Jerry"—Forward—First Year

Did he have a charm on that call? Perhaps—but he seemed never to miss a shot, regardless of position. His last-minute basket with the score tied, in the Monmouth game, was characteristic of his playing.

1931

GARNARD COLES—"Coles"—Forward—First Year
Coles was a fellow who was always ready to intercept a pass. Streaks of greased lightning had nothing on him for speed and elusiveness.

JACK LOYD—"Jack"—Forward—First Year
Jack played a hard, fast game from the time the referee's whistle blew until the final shot ended the game. He made long shots look easy.

EARL BEERY—"Earl"—Forward—First Year
Earl was essentially a forward, but, when substitutions were made, he took either forward or guard, and gave a sizeable account of himself.

FLOYD BAXTER—"Floyd"—Forward—First Year
Floyd held down one of the forward positions and was high point man in several games. His excellent shooting in the overtime period in the Monmouth game will be remembered for a long time.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

OFFICERS

President.....	Eva Woods
Vice-President.....	Marie Young
Secretary-Treasurer.....	Joyce Kirby
Coach.....	Miss Madeline Larson
Senior Sport Manager.....	Esther Witty
Freshmen Sport Manager.....	Jean Crabill

The aim of this association is to sponsor true sportsmanship, fellowship, and wholesome recreational activities among the women students of E. O. N. S.

The second year of the Women's Athletic Association has been very successful, due to the fact that the enrollment has had a decided increase, and interest has grown along with it.

The year ended with the following awards having been won: Letters: B. Miller, J. Whillock, J. Rayburn, W. Hill, S. Woodward, M. Young, M. Dearborn, L. Huntington, J. Kirby, A. Kirby, M. Hubbard, E. J. Erwin, H. Nanson, V. Slack, D. Barker, N. Twidwell. Sweaters: E. Woods and E. Witty.

MAJOR SPORTS GROUP

BASKETBALL

The most successful basketball season E. O. W. women have ever had was played last fall. The tournament had the largest attendance of any women's contest yet held at the Normal. The finals were won by the freshmen after a closely contested game with the seniors. The day ended with a big banquet attended by all girls participating in basketball. This banquet has been made an annual affair.

BASEBALL

This all-American sport is played in the fall and spring by the greatest number of girls interested in athletics. The climax in baseball was reached when the tournament was played between the freshmen and seniors. Much enthusiasm was prevalent previous to this tournament due to the fact that the rival teams were nearly equal in strength. The fall tournament was won by the seniors.

SPEEDBALL

Speedball is the most vigorous major sport played by the women students. In playing speedball, good sportsmanship is a necessary factor. This was proven when the freshmen-senior tournament was played in the fall quarter. The freshmen emerged from the struggle victorious.

MINOR SPORTS

TENNIS

Tennis is a minor sport, but still is one of the best-liked spring games. This spring saw an unusual number of girls turning out. Doubles and singles were played in the tournament in three gradations. The intermediates played against the advanced winners in the final tournament.

VOLLEYBALL

Indications are that volleyball will soon be as popular as basketball and baseball, for this year saw a very large enrollment. Big things are expected from the volleyball team this fall.

CROQUET GOLF

Croquet golf is the latest thing on the campus. Although the course is still in the making, unusual interest is being taken in the game by the women students. Croquet golf promises to be one of the most popular minor sports for next fall.

SWIMMING

Although the pool is quite distant from the campus, swimming is the most popular sport of the summer students. A surprising number of students have enrolled for this sport.

HORSESHOES

Horseshoes has proved an interesting and fascinating minor sport. Although the enrollment was small this year, many well-fought contests were held.

FOLK DANCING

Folk dancing has proved a basis of self-expression to those who participated in this activity. Besides learning the fascinating dances, much was learned about the foreign countries from which they came.

THE WIND THAT BLEW OUT « « « OF THE MOUNTAIN

Editor's note.—A gale swept down from the mountain; it tore across the campus; the building shook, and the inmates felt the presence of a tremendous element. Then—a great silence. Suddenly, amid the great whirling, rushing, thundering upheaval, Sacajawea — alias K. E. — descended (upon the lawn) in all his glory. Proudly he stood, his finely chiselled features sharply outlined against the sky. Slowly, and with a king-like tread, he mounted the steps and entered the school, awing the students with his commanding presence.

Sept. 22—I don't like this place. At home the sidewalks were cleared of all superfluous traffic so that I might proceed unhampered, and my genius was recognized, but here — I am just e pluribus unum — why, practically nothing.

Sept. 26—I always do learn things, if I go around enough. Take, for instance, this word, mixer, butter mixer, concrete mixer, cocktail mixer, and student mixer, the later being added this week. The recipe: Take 200 students, one sleek floor, one orchestra (a phonograph will do); add 50 whirls and leave for ten seconds. That's all. The result — one nicely done student body.

Sept. 29—So this is Paris! I thought as much when a cute little blonde came and informed me she was my big sister. These girls certainly can kid a guy!

Oct. 18—I found everything else in this school, but it wasn't until today that I accidentally stumbled into a class. Having never seen one of these much-talked of proceedings, I tuned in. I was just getting that comfortable feeling preceding an afternoon nap, when I heard the professor utter, "I saw by the paper that Turkey had lost her last supporters." I sat up and took notice.

Oct. 31—While shambling down the hall sixty per, a notice on the bulletin board caught my eye, and, putting on my two-wheeled brakes, I discovered the following: "Lost — A black and white woman's fountain pen." I thought I knew a lot, but this is a new one on me. Another wrinkle added to my collection of gray matter.

Dec. 26—The girl next to me in history calls her alarm clock Shasta because Shasta be wound.

Jan. 10—How terrible! When my baby-pink hands came in contact with a horrid ole revolver, I set out for the police station, holding it by its head, so that it wouldn't bite me. What a blow when Gertrude Tichenor beset me and robbed me of my chances of being Sherlock in the Original.

Jan. 22—4:45 and the library is crowded. I want to take "The President's Daughter" out for the evening, and now somebody will beat me to it. I never did have any luck!

Feb. 12—Charles McLin has discovered a new way to fame. It's by the process of elimination. Kill off everybody in the world but you, and you will then be the most famous person in the world. In economics class he informed his instructor that Taussig, an eminent economist, recently died. "Well, well," replied that worthy individual, "I have risen one more notch in the economic world." McLin can't be outdone that easily, so he ends up with, "Well, so have I."

Mar. 23—And now for Nature Study. Everywhere I go I see people collecting and pressing flowers. One poor, forlorn soul—Edwin Rogers—wanders around pressing one lonely Buttercup.

April 24—Gee! These advisory groups are swell—for the men. There is about one man in a group of 27 girls. Our group has two men, though, and Juanita Crawford got so excited she forgot to bring the buns to the picnic to harmonize with the weinies.

May 2—It's funny the interest some of these profs have outside their own subjects. Now take Mr. Daniel. Economics is his specialty, but he enjoys other subjects such as—well—art, for instance.

May 10—I heard some place that high school will soon be out. I suppose Normal will close, too, for what would this school be like without any girls! These high school boys are kind of temperamental, though. One night they can be noticed playing leap-frog on the court house lawn, and then all of a sudden we find one of our mountaineers noseless. How the tiger can scratch!

June 10—Graduation!! That is, I think it is. I told Mr. Nichols Venice is the capital of Spain. He thought he ought to flunk me, but when I promised I'd remember that it was in the Hawaiian Islands, he said he'd give me a passing grade. Well, what's a few miles, more or less, compared to graduation!

CONTRIBUTORS

La Grande, as the metropolis of Eastern Oregon, offers many advantages to the members of the Eastern Oregon Normal School in various lines. Whether it be the need of recreation, professional service, necessities, or luxuries of life, the business firms are ably fitted to care for them.

The Normal School is exceedingly fortunate in enjoying the support of most of the business firms of the city, as evidenced by their aid in helping make possible the publication of our yearbook, the EON. We are confident that the students and faculty will evince the same cooperation by patronizing the various business firms hereafter mentioned.
