

Leading Leaders

Inspire vision and develop strategy for optimal business results

Who Can Benefit

- Senior leaders whose decisions affect an entire business function or impact the entire organization

Key Learnings

- Eliminate silo thinking and apply systems thinking to benefit the whole organization
- Establish your personal learning strategy
- Master your conversation and rapport-building skills
- Traverse generation gaps in the workforce with active listening skills
- Employ heat experiences to maneuver competing stakeholder priorities

In our increasingly tumultuous business environment, with unexpected changes upending processes and operations practically overnight, senior leaders need to be resilient and strategic and continually learn as they lead and inspire their teams of leaders.

LEADING LEADERS OVERVIEW

- Join us on an 18-month learning journey to absorb and practice key skills to develop strategic thinking and effective decision-making.
- Attend four multi-day, in-person workshops, supplemented with engaging, online sessions to maintain momentum and keep in touch with your fellow participants—your new Peer Accountability Network.
- Enjoy content and format developed and delivered by an expert FCCS team well-versed in adult learning and professional development, enhanced by outside experts and thought leaders, and informed by our clients and two Client Advisory Boards.
- Experience “Friday Night at the ER” – an engaging simulation designed to make systems thinking fun while enlightening players about how to apply the approach in a complex, evolving situation.
- Deliver real-world results by applying what you learn—we’ll meet with you and your manager to define desired outcomes, and discuss opportunities and activities that will reinforce your new skills.
