

KDVM Communications

We are pleased to announce a new Passkey Partner to support your writing and communications needs: KDVM Communications. Effective communication with internal and external audiences is essential for any cooperative to keep members informed, employees motivated and prospective customers intrigued.

KDVM Communications offers Farm Credit and other cooperatives experienced writing and other communications services, built on the foundation of 15 years of serving System organizations and more than 30 in marketing communications. We understand the cooperative model, the Farm Credit mission and the industries you serve.

Whether a one-off project like an article, news release or organizational announcement, or an in-depth program of updating web content or promoting a new employee initiative, KDVM is available to support your communications team from project strategy and planning through execution.

KDVM Communications offers Passkey members a 10% discount on service fees. For more information, visit www.kdvmcommunications.com or email karen@kdvmcommunications.com.

Farm Credit references are available by request.
