ADDISON WOODS

wedding & event venue

photo by sue sonnier

CHESTER THE basset hound will continue to greet customers at the front door of Woods Feed Store, and may slip in from time to time to enjoy the air conditioning inside.

We're so Happy You're Here

Tucked away beneath the tall pines of The Woodlands, Addison Woods is my family's story of history, heart, and legacy. What began as a feed store in the 1940s, owned by our grandmother Laura Woods, later became our beloved family home for generations. Today, we have thoughtfully transformed it into a timeless gathering place for weddings and celebrations, while still honoring its roots.

Named in memory of our late father, Addison, the venue reflects the values he instilled in us: family, hospitality and warmth. At Addison Woods, we welcome every couple like family and every celebration becomes part of our story.

with love,

The Woods Family
