LEGENDARY VENUES, EPIC EVENTS

Located in the heart of Union Square and the hotel district, August Hall is a one of San Francisco's original masterpieces. The unique space was originally built in the 1890's as a Victorian Playhouse by celebrated architect August Headman, where it later showed films as the "Stage Door Theatre" in the 1940's featuring the premiere of Alfred Hitchcock's film Vertigo on May 9, 1958. Today, this historic venue has been reborn as August Hall, serving as the perfect location to host your next corporate event, private concert, art show, film screening, wedding, reception, fundraiser or gala. With access to the world's greatest musical entertainment, full service event production, state-of-the-art lighting and sound, custom menus and mixology - our unique venue will exceed expectations of even the most discerning guest. Accommodating groups of 50 - 1,000 guests, our talented staff handles every detail, so you don't have to!

Reimagine your live entertainment experience in this completely restored theater. Featuring over 15,000 square feet of flexible design space, this historic setting consists of three unique spaces with a design that pays homage to original architecture of the building. From the plush Green Room to the dynamic Fifth Arrow restaurant and pristinely restored Assembly Hall, August Hall has an atmosphere that celebrates extraordinary hospitality and service.
