AT MacARTHUR PLACE

The Experience

An experience inspired by and connected to the historic pedigree, natural bounty, and physical beauty of MacArthur Place and Sonoma.

From the moment you step onto the grounds, there is a sense of magic and discovery. Lush gardens, historic farm buildings, winding paths, secret nooks. The attention to detail is amazing without ever becoming manicured or stiff. Indoor, outdoor, and transition areas connect seamlessly. You flow across the different spaces. Nothing is sealed off, siloed, or isolated.

There is a sense of history that emerges here. Not through plaques, themed decor, or old time pictures, but from the sensory details of the experience itself. Gardens that evoke its days as a working farm and family estate. Touches of iron, copper, wood, and other industrial farm materials. Exposed barn beams. Shady porches. Picket fences. We are not fabricating history. We are revealing it.

Make no mistake: this is a contemporary luxury experience. But our approach is different: More hand-crafted. More sensory. More honest. We cut against the grain of the glossy, expected conventions of typical “executive hospitality.” We put a fresh, elevated spin on classic Sonoma farmhouse style. We aren’t about easy flash or glossy displays. We’re about ensuring every moment, every material, and every touchpoint is absolutely premium, natural, and considered.

People travel to Sonoma to indulge in sensory experiences that allow them to reconnect - with themselves, with nature, and with each other. At MacArthur Place, we are delivering against this desire like no other property: Impeccable, serene rooms with soothing textures, natural materials, and high-touch finishes. Stunning bathrooms with open-air outdoor showers. Dining experiences that draw from the natural abundance of Sonoma and our property. Natural landscaping, beautiful green spaces, and an airy spa & pool integrated into the garden grounds. In our culture of tech overload and “notification anxiety,” this is a place that understands how natural, honest, hand-crafted experiences have become the ultimate luxury.

of Sonoma. Modern design
meets farmhouse charm.*
