

About LAJHealth

LAJHealth is the largest non-profit, single-source provider of comprehensive senior healthcare services in Los Angeles. Serving nearly 4,000 people each year, 1,000 of whom reside on campus, we offer in-residence and community-based programs and services. We support seniors' physical and mental health - while also fostering creative expression - whether they are living in their own homes and participating in day programs, or residing on one of our beautiful campuses.

Campuses Include:

- Eisenberg Village, Reseda
- Grancell Village, Reseda
- Fountainview at Eisenberg Village, Reseda
- Hirsch Family Campus, Reseda
- Gonda Healthy Aging Westside Campus, Playa Vista

One Call Does It All

855.227.3745

Offering a holistic approach to healthy aging, our numerous programs meet seniors where they are in life and provide services tailored to meet their individual needs, with a focus on mind, body, and spirit.

Here, residents are like family – beloved, well cared for, and treated with the honor and respect they so richly deserve.

Feels Like Family

Nearly 1,300 staff are dedicated to ensuring the health and well-being of the seniors in our care. Our team of physicians, nurse practitioners, pharmacists, rehabilitation therapists, dieticians, clergy, and others make us unique. Here, residents are like family – beloved, well cared for, and treated with the honor and respect they so richly deserve.

Training The Future

LAJHealth even has a nursing school, the Annenberg School of Nursing. Located on the Hirsch Family Campus, we prepare students for successful and rewarding careers as licensed vocational nurses, certified nurse assistants, and home health aides. In fact, approximately 50 percent of our graduates go on to work here at LAJHealth – ensuring a talented cadre of health professionals eager to provide our residents with leading-edge care.
