

IN THE NEWSEARTHQUAKECHINA BALLOONHEALTH CAREUKRAINE

+ ADD SHORTCUTSUBSCRIBERADIOLIVEAdChoices

Global NEWS

WorldCanadaLocalPoliticsMoneyHealthEntertainmentLifestyleWatchPerspectivesSports

GLOBAL NEWS HOUR AT 6MainAboutPersonalitiesSocial Media

Identify bottlenecks and opportunities for each deal

Show me how

ADVERTISEMENT

Global News Hour at 6 BC

Unique deep sea area off B.C. coast one step closer to protection

01:53 / 02:16

ADVERTISEMENT

MORE VIDEOS

B.C. evening weather forecast: Feb. 7

GLOBAL NEWS HOUR AT 6 BC

Unique deep sea area off B.C. coast one step closer to protection

Posted February 7 2023 06:33pm

A massive marine area off the coast of B.C. is one step closer to being protected from resource extraction. As Kylie Stanton reports, coastal First Nations have signed an agreement with Ottawa, for what would be the largest marine protected area on the West Coast.

Massive area off B.C. coast one step closer to an official Marine Protected Area

REPORT AN ERROR

More Stories

I Didn't Know My Computer Could Block All Ads? (Fin...
Safe Tech Tips

British Columbia Seniors Born Before 1960 Are... www.besthearingaids.ca

Canadians under 74 with No Life Insurance Get a...
CA Life

Top Heart Surgeon: This Simple Routine Helps...
Gundry MD | Bio Complete 3

RECOMMENDED BY Outbrain

Global News Hour at 6 BC: Feb.7

Burnaby search and rescue team heading to Turkey to aid in earthquake response

North Vancouver family tormented by teens

Charges laid in fatal tugboat sinking off B.C.'s North Coast

<https://globalnews.ca/video/9469313/unique-deep-sea-area-off-b-c-coast-one-step-closer-to-protection/>