

Marks Lumber 105 Siding

If you're looking for a beautiful lap siding with a little more intrigue than a traditional tight-edge shiplap, Marks Lumber's circle sawn 105 siding is an excellent option. Commonly known as drop siding, cove lap, Dutch lap or German lap, our 105 siding is a shiplap siding with a decorative curved reveal. 105 siding is ideal for horizontal applications as the rounded reveal helps water run off easily. It also looks great when installed vertically.

While commonly used for exterior siding, 105 can also be used for soffit, paneling and wainscoting. Marks Lumber's 105 siding comes in a variety of sizes, surfaces and grades. If you have questions about what grade or texture 105 you're looking for, contact our qualified sales team today.

Make Your Siding Last With Lifetime

Lifetime Wood Treatment is a non-toxic product that can be used for virtually any outdoor project, including siding, trim, fencing, and decks. This one-and-done weathering treatment effortlessly creates a beautiful silver patina look, similar to that of old barnwood. Save time and money by letting Marks Lumber pre-dip your siding for you!
