Partners safe in marriage amendment

By Dan Anderson

In a wide-ranging discussion on an issue of the utmost importance to gay rights advocates, the Atlanta Journal-Constitution editorial board issued a strong endorsement of same-sex marriage on Aug. 2. The board called for a constitutional amendment that would recognize marriage rights for all couples, regardless of their sexual orientation.

"Diplomacy, not force, the best plan for Iran"

By John Roberts

The Iranian government has been under increasing pressure to abandon its nuclear program. Washington has sought to impose sanctions and other measures to curb Iran's nuclear ambitions. But the administration's efforts have so far failed to achieve the desired result.

"EQUAL TIME"

By David Shulman

The Atlanta Journal-Constitution has decided to give equal time to both sides of the debate on an issue of importance to the community. The paper has committed to publishing articles from both the pro and con viewpoints.

"Needs of wheelchair-bound ignored"

By Sarah Johnson

The Atlanta Journal-Constitution has received numerous complaints from individuals with disabilities who feel that their needs are being ignored. The paper has made a commitment to improve its coverage of issues affecting people with disabilities.

The Atlanta Journal-Constitution (Atlanta, Georgia) · Mon, Sep 27, 2004 · Main Edition · Page A11

https://www.newspapers.com/image/424677778

Copyright © 2019 Newspapers.com. All Rights Reserved.