Jenn White
Moderator, Elliot L. Richardson Prize Awards Ceremony
January 28, 2026

An award-winning journalist and podcast host, Jenn White has worked in public radio since 1999. She joined WAMU and NPR's national talk show 1A in 2020. 1A is heard on more than 430 stations nationwide and reaches an audience of almost 4 million listeners each week. It is heard on stations in NYC, Los Angeles, Chicago, Houston, Washington DC, Philadelphia, Boston, and Minneapolis/St. Paul among many others. The 1A Podcast is downloaded more than 1 million times each month and is part of the NPR Podcast Network.

Jenn joined 1A from Chicago's WBEZ where she hosted the station's local two-hour midday show, Reset with Jenn White. She is also a familiar voice on several WBEZ podcasts, including Making Oprah, Making Obama and 16 Shots, which chronicled the fatal police shooting of Laquan McDonald and the trial of Chicago police officer Jason Van Dyke. Before WBEZ, White was the local host of All Things Considered at Michigan Radio.

White is also a skilled public speaker and has moderated numerous on-air gubernatorial and mayoral debates. A native of Detroit and graduate of the University of Michigan, she now resides in Maryland with her husband.
