Joyful Happiness

Our mission at Woodland Chapel is to help people on their spiritual journeys. I believe the book we have chosen for this month's talks will support this intention.

This month's Sunday messages will focus on translating this joyful intention into personal happiness. Our talks will be based on Marci Shimoff's book Happy for No Reason. The central theme is that happiness comes from the inside out.

We are always mindful of how our inner divinity is expressed. Happiness springs from this inner joy and is our natural state. Happiness can filter through the mind, flood the heart, enliven the body, and is ultimately anchored in the higher self. When we are happy, I believe we can more easily feel our purpose in life and attract nurturing relationships like we have at our Center.

The ideas in Marci Shimoff's book are extensions of our spiritual psychology. Indeed, there are challenges. We will see how to address them from a place of joy.

Spring is in full swing. Nature invites us to express happiness, especially on bright, clear, sunshine-filled days.

My wife and I will take a three-week vacation together to make more room for our inner happiness to shine. After a four-hour nonstop flight, we will land in Puerto Vallarta. The pool, the seas, and the warm, sweet days will be perfect for enjoying one another and our surroundings.

I invite you to attend as many of our Sunday Celebrations as possible. Have fun learning more about how your joy can be expressed as happiness.

Love and Blessings Always,

Rev Maur

Your copy should address 3 key questions: Who am I writing for (audience)? Why should they care (benefit)? What do I want them to do (call-to-action)?

Create a great offer by adding words like "free," "personalized," "complimentary," or "customized." A sense of urgency often helps readers take action, so consider inserting phrases like "for a limited time only" or "only 7 remaining!"
