This Sunday Message, "Ask and you shall receive."

Embracing Universal Freedom

In a world often marked by challenges and uncertainties, the words of Dr. Ernest Holmes offers hope and empowerment. His profound quote, "There is nothing but freedom in the Universe". invites us to explore the potential within ourselves and the world around us.

Dr. Holmes, the founder of the Science of Mind philosophy, believed that freedom is an inherent quality of the universe. This perspective encourages individuals to recognize their innate power to choose their responses to life's circumstances, no matter how daunting they may seem. In moments of adversity, such as illness, loss, or societal upheaval, it is easy to feel overwhelmed and powerless. However, Dr. Holmes' teachings remind us that we always have the ability to decide how we will proceed. Embracing the concept of universal freedom allows us to access an inner strength and gives us resilience in the face of challenges. For instance, when confronted with health issues, we can choose to seek medical treatment and adopt a positive mindset. In times of grief, we can find solace in cherished memories and the support of loved ones. When grappling with feelings of guilt or shame, we can reframe our experiences and take steps towards healing and self-forgiveness.

As we celebrate the spirit of independence this July, let us remember that freedom is not just a political or social construct, but a fundamental truth of the universe. By aligning ourselves with this truth, we can navigate life's ups and downs with grace and confidence.

Happy July 4th! May you embrace the freedom that is your divine birthright, today and always.

Love and Blessings Always,
Rev Maur

Woodland Chapel recycles...

Bring your cans and bottles and put them in the recycle bin.

I find this a great service as I am not keen on making the effort myself to go to the recycling building. As an additional benefit, Woodland Chapel receives a check now and then. Your effort is appreciated. Rev. Julie
