DATE OF ISSUE QUESTION AND ANSWER: Friday, August 5, 2016

Question #	BIDDER QUESTIONS	PORT RESPONSES	Attached Document
1	Are there particular on-call projects this RFQ will target? Can you tell me what they are?	At this time, there are not specified projects for these on-call contracts. See attached list as examples of task orders issued under the current Civil / Structural On-Call Contracts.	List of task orders
2	Is there a reason stormwater was not mentioned in the RFQ? Was this an oversight?	All tasks that would normally fall under a Civil / Structural design scope would be included in the task order negotiated scope of services. Stormwater specific task orders would generally be issued under the Stormwater On-Call Contracts that the Port also maintains.
3	Will utilities be an important factor in the anticipated work?	Utilities may be a component of a specific task order under this contract.
4	Is there a reason coastal hydraulics was not included/mentioned in the RFQ?	Coastal hydraulics is not a commonly procured AE service by the Port.
5	Please clarify the meaning of "independent cost estimating". Does this mean the prime needs a sub-consultant for all cost estimating? Or does it mean the scope of services includes developing cost estimates for another designer's project?	Services may include reviewing cost estimates from other designers projects (peer reviews) and additionally the Port may ask the On-Call team to verify the Port's engineer's estimates for work and/or the Port may request the On-Call AE's estimate to be reviewed by someone else on the On-Call AE's team to review the cost estimate created by the designer for the task order. This may be accomplished by someone else in the same office, or a subconsultant.
6	Is Construction Management only for our projects designed as part of this contract, or for projects designed by others?	Generally only for projects designed under this contract.
7	Are we limited to one appendix with resumes? Or can we add other appendices, such as a detailed organization chart?	Yes, an org chart or a more detailed project list may be added as appendices. Appendices included as an attachment should only supplement and not replace information required to be submitted in the Statement of Qualifications per the RFQ.
8	Resumes are limited to 1 page. The third bullet – is this asking for a minimum of 5 projects in the resume (only) with the point of contact, client information, etc or are we to show at least 5 projects in the narrative proposal with the requested contact information.	These bullets may be confusing in the order they were listed. The five projects should be a part of the SOQ submitted - not a part of the resumes.
9	Would it be possible to get the bid results from the last On-Call contract that was awarded?	Attached.	Evaluation Matrix
