Hello April, Be a month of Rebirth,
Regrowth, and Renewal.

“April hath put a spirit of youth in everything.”
— William Shakespeare

Bring on the Rain

You know the old saying “April showers bring May flowers”? Have you ever thought about all the wisdom that is packed into that short and simple phrase? When taking the time to reflect on it, you are able to find three powerful lessons.

Lesson 1. Be patient, when we want something to be over or want something to happen, we often have a hard time waiting. We are impatient and often wish away time. This little rhyme reminds us to be patient, wait, good things are coming.

Lesson 2. Stay optimistic, during trying times where things feel dark, gloomy, and the rain is pouring down, try to remember the flowers are coming. Just like the flowers, we are growing through our trials and we will bloom even brighter on the other side.

Lesson 3. Circumstances are not permanent. As the rhyme reminds us, April is all showers, but May is all flowers. This serves as a reminder that our circumstances are not permanent, so stay the course and keep going. Don't give up.

So, no matter where you are in life today, the gloomy or the blooming, look forward, keep moving ahead, welcome the rain, and remember to always keep your thoughts fixed on the sunshine.
