

MULTNOMAH

Adjunct Professor – Psychology

Position Description: The Department of Psychology is actively seeking qualified adjunct professors to teach in the Traditional Undergraduate Psychology program. Teaching experience preferred but not required. Courses that need adjunct instructors may vary by semester. Please contact the department chair, Elliott Lawless, to inquire about current availabilities. Potential courses in need of instructors include: Educational Psychology, Human Diversity, Research Methods, Physiological Psychology, Psychological Testing, Cognitive Psychology, and Adolescent Psychology. Women and ethnic minorities are strongly encouraged to apply.

Minimum Requirements: Master's Degree in Psychology, Counseling, or related fields.

Institution Information: Multnomah University includes undergraduate and graduate programs as well as Multnomah Biblical Seminary located in Portland, OR. All programs are coeducational and interdenominational. Founded in 1936, the college, graduate school, and seminary have established a renowned heritage of excellence in biblical education equipping Christian men and women to transform our culture and the world. The college offers B.A. degrees in 20 majors as well as four university M.A. programs. The seminary offers the M.A., M.Div., Th.M., and D.Min. degrees. Multnomah University is accredited with the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities (NWCCU). The Multnomah Biblical Seminary is accredited with the Association of Theological Schools (ATS). In addition, Multnomah University is an affiliate with the Council for Christian Colleges and Universities (CCCU)

Compensation: $1,294 to $2,250 per semester based on contracted credit hours and earned degree.

Apply: Click Here for Online Application

Contact: Elliott Lawless
elawless@multnomah.edu