Early Bird

-Vipul Katyal

Night Owl

-Seth Narula

Night Owl

I work the night shift because the sun and I have a mutual agreement to avoid each other.

-Shyam Arora

Night Owl

Night Owl nothing just because I am genz

-Anjali Gupta

Early Bird

My brain has a strict 5:00 AM auto-start setting that I cannot turn off.

-Rohini Sood

Early Bird

Why would I ever lose access to fresh air, chirping birds, happy dogs, and an empty gym?

-Sakshi Aneja

Night Owl

Raat ko so gya to kaam kon karega.

-Abhay

Night Owl

My vote goes to Night Owl. Working night shifts has officially turned me into a nocturnal creature, so I have to support my fellow owls. 🦉🌙

-Udita Bhattacharya

Night Owl

Because the moon and I have an understanding.

-Neha Seth

Early Bird

I adapt to the work, but I naturally lean toward being an early bird.

-Bhupender Singh

Early Bird

God has created a night for sleep, and day for work, so its always good be a Early Bird to be a more healthy.

-Robinson David

Night Owl

Calm, less traffic, Silence andddd US shift

-Bharishya

Night Owl

My productivity peaks when the world gets quieter and distractions disappear.

-Prashant

Night Owl

I work nights during the week, so night shift is (mostly) peaceful and quiet. On weekends, my PG mates convince me to stay awake for what they insist is "just one round" of cards. Before I know it, it's 4 AM. And if it's not cards, I'm binge-watching a movie or web series until my eyes decide they've had enough and shut down on their own. 😴

-Varun Goswami

Night Owl

Night owls don't just work the late hours—they keep operations moving, solve problems, and provide support around the clock. That's something to be proud of. Also, Night shift employees are the unsung heroes who ensure business never stops. Their commitment and reliability make all the difference

-Vinay Sanga

Early Bird

I wake up at 4:30-5:00 AM — not because it's trendy, but because it's the only time that's truly mine. Before the world wakes up, I pray, do yoga, hit the gym, and prepare my meals for the day — all before most people even open their eyes. But beyond my routine, those extra 3-4 hours are pure freedom — time to learn a new skill, get ahead on work, read, or simply move your body in fresh morning air, all without the fear of breaking your day's consistency later. This isn't about sacrificing sleep; it's about protecting a quiet window to invest in your body, mind, and spirit before the world starts pulling at your attention. Waking up early doesn't just build discipline — it lowers stress, sharpens focus, improves digestion, and sets your body's natural rhythm right, so you're not just productive, you're genuinely healthier.

-Saif Siddiqui

Night Owl

The early bird gets the worm, but the night owl closes the US deals. By the time everyone else is asleep, I'm still on demos, answering emails, and keeping the revenue awake. 🦉💻

-Gaby Singh

Early Bird

force of habit

-Prakrati

Night Owl

Raat ko chatpati reels ati hai use dekhne k leyeeeeeee

-Nitesh Sharma

Night Owl

Beach Monkey.

-Shivalik

Night Owl

Being a night owl is elite. While everyone else is asleep, there's no traffic, no random spam calls, and no one asking, "Got a minute?" The world finally goes on Do Not Disturb mode, and my brain decides it's time to become productive. Night owls don't stay up late... We simply start today's work tomorrow. 😊😴

-Parth Goyal

Night Owl

Once upon a time, I was an early bird. Then my manager looked at my healthy sleep schedule and said, "Let's fix that." Now I stay awake at night doing work that could have been completed during the day, powered by caffeine, confusion, and the faint memory of work-life balance.
