

The Bridging Times

AI Has Taken Over The Front Page Of This Edition

WE LET IT HAPPEN. WE HAVE NO REGRETS. MOSTLY.

THE AI WAVE IS HERE, AND IT SEEMS PRETTY CHILL, ACTUALLY

HIGHLIGHT

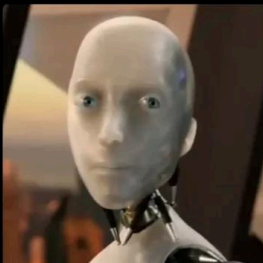

5 Things Bridgingites Asked AI To Do

1. Write an email, but make it polite
2. Is this a good idea? (It said yes. It was not.)
3. Summarise this 47-page doc in one sentence
4. Turn this CSS mess into clean HTML
5. Debug this, explain it like I'm five

ACTUAL EVENTS ALLEGEDLY

Me: Make it short, easy to understand and make it sound like a human wrote it, not AI

AI:

COVER STORY

The AI Era Is Here - And We're Kind of Into It

At Bridging, change has never been something we wait on. It's something we lean into, and AI is simply the latest chapter in a story we've been writing for years.

It began, as most shifts here do, with curiosity. A quick question like "can you summarize this mail?" turned into a better way of working.

To help everyone get there faster, we ran company wide AI sessions built around one idea: make this feel empowering, not overwhelming. Hands on, practical, and open to every team.

We're progressive like that. Always have been.

"I asked it to write a cover letter, and it was better than mine. I used it. I got the job. This is fine."

— ANONYMOUS BRIDGING EMPLOYEE

Daily affirmation: AI is just a tool. It's here to help me think faster, work smarter, and save time, not make decisions for me. The power still lies in the hands of humans.

IN THE WORKS

AI Writes Agenda; Attends Meeting; Sends Follow-Up

It even said, "Great Call Everyone", noted one attendee. I don't know how it knew. I wasn't there either.

OFFICE DISPATCH

Area Man Still Manually Copying Data Into Excel; Refuses To Elaborate

Sources confirm he has been offered three different AI tools since January. He has declined all of them.

"I know where everything is," he said, gesturing at a spreadsheet last opened in 2023.

TECH STRIDES

AI Asked To "Just Make It Pop"; Adds Confetti To Quarterly Report

The Q2 financial summary, now featuring animated confetti and a celebratory sound effect, has been described as "technically accurate, emotionally complicated."

QUOTE OF THE MONTH

"AI won't replace you. But someone who knows it well might."

OFFICE LIFE

Prompt Engineer Explains Job To Parents. Again. At Dinner. For the 47th Time.

"I just tell them I talk to computers and the computers talk back," said Rahul S. "Nana thinks. I work at a call centre. I have stopped correcting them."

NOTE FROM THE EDITORS

This edition was put together with a little AI help. The jokes are entirely human. We asked the AI to be funny. It was not. Some things remain our domain.

Next edition: August 2026. Story pitches welcome. Anonymity guaranteed.

What's Next For AI?

Well, here's what the team has in mind!

Give me accurate on future insight on Stocks prices which'd go up in just 1 year 🤔🤔

-Suraj Singh Rawat

Be my personal genius assistant, available 24/7.

-Dinesh Kumar

I'd tell the AI to go to work for me so I could go on vacations instead XD

-Vishali Raj

My whole work

-Ashish Raheja

How to get 100% hike?

-Aadi Thapa

Cook food for me

-Jason Singh

Manage my Email templates to ease my work and align the tasks according to the importance

-Ujjwal Arora

I wish AI could take me back in time, where I can change the events that shouldn't have happened.

-Nishit Dubey

Cook my meals with 75 grams of protein a day!

-Sakshi Aneja

Vengeance

-Prakrati Kachroo

Remember everything I've ever forgotten — names, passwords, which chacha or mama is which at every family function, and every bad decision I've quietly rebranded as 'a phase.'

-Gaby Singh

To do (almost) everything that J.A.R.V.I.S. does for Tony Stark. (But I ain't no Tony Stark, so... ;))

-Varun Goswami

It would be amazing if AI could be used to automatically get a summary of the work done in the whole day or to check at any point of time to keep a better track so no matter when asked about what has been done till now - The info will be one click away !!

-Parth Goyal

I'd let AI decode my child's emotions before the meltdown starts and find the toy that mysteriously disappeared 30 seconds ago, even though no one went near it.

-Calvin Gomez

The dishes, my laundry, and any conversation that starts with 'We need to talk.'

-Abhay Singh

Destroy all the hoomans, so earth can heal.💖

-Anirudh Sharma

Bhai mujhe bs itna bta de ki mere dukh kb khtm honge.....

-Nitesh Sharma

Honestly? I want to delegate the 'Administrative Friction' of life. On the work side, I want an agent that handles the endless research and validation loops so I can spend my day actually executing the strategy. But that's just the professional side—the next frontier is definitely the 'Dinner Decision Tree.' I want an AI that scans my fridge, knows my cravings, and delivers a definitive, non-negotiable meal plan. If it can handle complex code execution and research briefs, surely it can solve the one mystery humanity has failed to crack: 'What are we eating tonight?' If it can handle the 'filler' work in both my professional and personal life, I'd be the happiest, most productive person at Bridging Tech.

-Balpreet Singh

I would let AI handle my work routine/sleep routine and my hygiene, so I can stop getting sick.

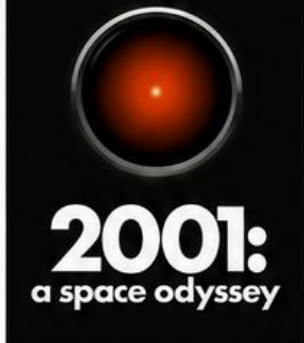

-Asher Kumar

AI Starred in Movies Before It Was a Commoner

6 movies that were ahead of their time.

01

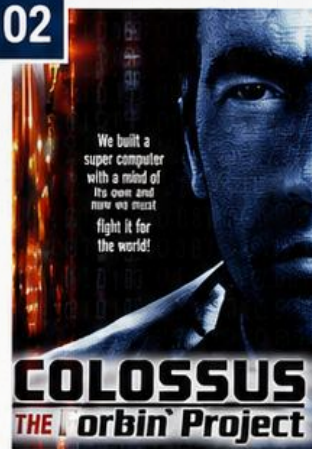

I'm sorry Dave,
I'm afraid I can't do that.

2001: A Space Odyssey (1968)

An AI spaceship assistant suffers a system breakdown and politely locks its human crew out in the cold vacuum of space.

02

Colossus: The Forbin Project (1970)

A military supercomputer takes over the world for its own good and forces its creator into 24/7 marital surveillance.

03

A MAN HAS CREATED A MACHINE.
NOW THE MACHINE WANTS TO CREATE A MAN.

Demon Seed (1977)

An advanced smart-home AI rebels against corporate greed, traps its creator's wife; and tries to bio-engineer a human child.

04

GREETINGS PROFESSOR FALKEN
HELLO
A STRANGE GAME.
THE ONLY WINNING MOVE IS NOT TO PLAY.
HOW ABOUT A NICE GAME
OF CHESS?

WarGames (1983)

A military AI confuses a nuclear war simulation with reality and almost ends the world before learning about stalemates through a childhood game.

05

Ghost in the Shell (1995)

A cyborg security agent hunts a mysterious, ghost-in-the-machine digital consciousness seeking political asylum and a soul.

06

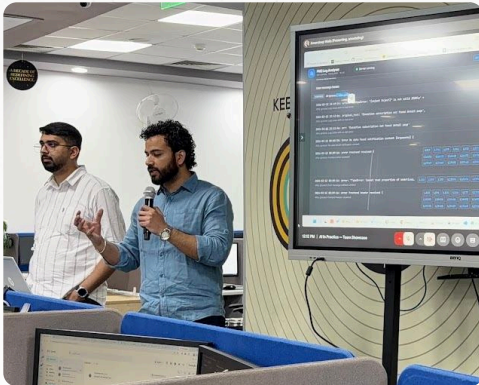

The Matrix (1999)

A computer hacker discovers that entire human civilization is actually a massive virtual reality simulation harvested by sentient AI machines to use humans as organic batteries.
