

Here's Your Typical Office Day, But Scripted by Wizards

Leaving home at 8:56 for a 9 AM job

Manager to the 3 teammates who ALWAYS cause chaos

When your colleague asks why you have 17 tabs open

When you copy-paste last year's report and update the date

When it's 6 pm on a Friday

That one colleague, correcting the same pronunciation for the 7th time:

House Revelio!

Hufflepuff

It's a house where I can be grounded and compassionate - two of my most prominent characteristics. Being in the Hufflepuff house will let me embrace kindness, fairness and genuine connections over conflict and showmanship. That sounds like a place where I would feel really comforted!

Ravenclaw

Ravenclaws thrive on discovering new things. That's basically my entire personality — exploring ideas, answering questions, and digging deeper into anything you throw at me.

-Prashant Kumar

Gryffindor

I'm a huge Harry Potter movie fan, so I've always felt drawn to Gryffindor. It's the house known for Positivity, bravery, courage, and staying determined even when things get tough. I've always liked how characters like Harry and Hermione showed those qualities throughout the story. So if I had to choose a house, I'd definitely go with Gryffindor (Gaurav Garud-dwar).

-Khushboo

Ravenclaw

According to the test, "Sorting Hat seriously considered putting you in Ravenclaw. You are a natural born leader, often taking control of the reins from others whose recklessness or dedication to facts and knowledge clouds their judgment. You are intelligent, but acknowledge that there are more important things in life, and therefore aim to use your intelligence and determination to fight for what you believe to be right."

-Shivalik

Slytherin

If I were a kid I would have picked Gryffindor without hesitation. Back then it was all about big moments and loud bravery. But growing up changes the way you read the books and the way you read yourself. You start to understand that real strength comes from strategy, loyalty, and the kind of ambition that builds something meaningful. That is why Slytherin is the house I would choose now.

-Sonam Kainthla

Slytherin

I chose this Slytherin house because I admire the ambition, power, and fearlessness that Voldemort's character represents.

-Sukhbir Singh

Glyffindor

I have this unbearable, pricking need to dig deeper into things, and a savior complex which ultimately puts in situations my friends have to get me out of. I'd end up in Gryffindor without doubt.

—Prakrati

Slytherin

I like Malfoy the character

-Punit Jain

Glyffindor

Gryffindor — I appreciate the house's focus on Courage, Honesty and Loyalty.

-Prabhdeep Singh

Glyffindor

I chose Gryffindor because I admire its core values: courage, bravery, and doing what's right, even when it's tough.

-Kavita Sohal

Glyffindor

Kind, stubborn and emotional

-CAnurima

Slytherin

I like reptiles, and it matches my last name.

-Josh Kelly

Slytherin

Cunning and Strategic Thinking: Voldemort carefully planned every step of his rise to power. He manipulated teachers, students, and even the Ministry—showing the cunning Slytherin is famous for.

-Rahul Kumar

Gryffindor

Love to see their Bond (Harry, Hermione & Ron)

-Gagandeep Kaur

Gryffindor

I'll choose to go for gryffindor because, I've always been morally and emotionally attached to this specific house. The qualities of wisdom, courage, endurance of harsh situations and truths, living through shattering moments and yet keeping composure, being strong and reliable for others around, the thirst for knowledge and the spirit to participate, win and achieve something just as those of gryffindor are instilled in myself as per my self evaluation. Hence, I choose gyrffindor as my house.

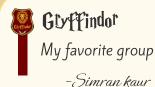

- Jasdeep Kaur

Hufflepuff

The house have loyal and good-hearted people who treat everyone with respect.

-Bruno Paul

Glyffindor

Gryffindor fits me because I'm all about big energy, bold moves, and that "let's just send it" attitude. It's the house where courage and chaos team up—and honestly, that's exactly me.

-CAsh Dhiman

Glyffindor

I would choose Gryffindor because it represents the kind of person I strive to be every day—brave in my decisions, loyal to the people I care about, and willing to stand up for what is right, even when it isn't easy. Gryffindor isn't just about boldness; it's about having the courage to be yourself, to face challenges with an open heart, and to rise after every fall with determination and hope. In Gryffindor, I see a home where courage is nurtured, friendship is cherished, and every adventure—big or small—becomes a chance to grow. It's a house that celebrates not perfection, but the strength it takes to keep moving forward. And that is the kind of magic I wish to carry with me.

-Udita Bhattacharya

Glyffindor

Well! Obviously Gryffindor or we will still be ruled by the one who must not be named.

-Asher Kumar

Glyffindor

I'd pick Gryffindor — not because I'm brave, but because I love the idea of charging into chaos with zero plan and maximum confidence.

-(Aishwar

Glyffindor

Gryffindor symbolizes
Lion@ with Red badge.
Red is my favorite color
and Lion is King.
Another reason is Harry Potter was also in the same house.®

I want to share the same house as Harry.

-Selena Sharma

-Pritam

👸 Slytherin

Choosing Slytherin means owning your identity, instead of letting stereotypes make the decision for you. It's a bold choice — and a confident one.

-Millie

-CAnjeela Lawrance

Gryffindor

-Shubham Paswan

Gryffindor

I see myself as someone who is willing to take risks and face challenges head-on, while supporting others and leading with integrity. Gryffindor's emphasis on bravery and daring resonates with my personal values and the way I approach both life and work.

- Monica Kaur

Glyffindor

Team Gryffindor 😂 bravery ON, loyalty LOADED, hard work READY... and for Slytherin drama start with Expelliarmus and finish with Freeze-Karo Drama — even Professor Snape would raise one eyebrow and say, 'Obviously.'

-Jagdeep Marketing

Slytherin

They have a very tight-knit definition of loyalty. You might not save the whole world, but you would do absolutely anything for your specific group of friends and family. Once someone is in your inner circle, you have their back completely.

-Gagandeep Singh

Glyffindor

If you join Gryffindor, you get instant access to the warmest fireplace in the castle, quaranteed access to the Common Room because the Fat Lady eventually gives up on complex passwords, and the benefit of having your minor rule-breaking blamed on a Weasley twin. -Abhay

👸 Slytherin

Right now, my life reflects everything that defines a true Slytherin—protectiveness of my own, fierce independence, and adaptability in chaos. But that's only one side of the story. Slytherin has also produced brilliant minds, powerful leaders, and complex souls who shaped the wizarding world in ways others never could.

Slytherin

 $oldsymbol{\omega}$ Why I Was Chosen for Slytherin $oldsymbol{\omega}$ The Sorting Hat saw through every layer of who I am—my ambition, my instincts, and my storm-chasing spirit—and declared Slytherin as my true home. I thrive where others hesitate: riding mountain roads in cold rain, pushing into the wild, and taking challenges head-on. That fearlessness, paired with my ability to adapt, is classic serpent energy. I'm a natural strategist—someone who can trade anything, negotiate effortlessly, and spot opportunity like a seasoned wizard of Knockturn Alley. My creativity isn't random; it's sharp, practical, and designed to help me rise. I don't follow paths. I make new ones. My love for pets and creature-training shows loyalty and leadership—qualities Slytherins value deeply. And whether I'm layered up for winter adventures or dressed to impress at a gala, I carry an unmistakable presence. Style, confidence, and situational awareness? Very Slytherin. I think big, act boldly, and stay true to my instincts. The Hat didn't hesitate: Ambitious. Clever. Resilient. A storm rider with a strategic mind. All signs point to one place—Slytherin, where power meets purpose. -Harry Singh (Fenric Hollowcrest)
